Nomination Process for 2010 Chamber Directors Underway

Pursuant to the bylaws, election of officers and directors for the 2009 Chamber Board of Directors gets underway in August.

The process begins with the development of a Slate of Officers and Directors by the Nominating Committee. Voting business members interested in applying for consideration for a position on the Slate should review the following documents and/or contact CEO Janet Toppenberg prior to September 10, 2009.

Following development of the Slate by the Committee in September, the Slate will be mailed out to the voting members. If no petitions are received by the Chamber before the established deadline, the Slate will be deemed elected in October. Members not included in the Slate, who wish to challenge the Slate, may do so by filing a petition within the time frame listed on the notification.

The term for each director position is three years. Each year, the terms of one-third of the directors expire. Among the Officers, only the Board Chair-Elect is included in the Slate. The Office of Board Chair is filled automatically by the current year's Chair-Elect. This year, that role is filled by Steve Griffin, Grubb & Ellis.

Details, application forms, and the schedule can be found on the Chamber's website, or contact Janet Toppenberg at 916-691-3760.

site visits. Classes will be held October through May, some of which will be four-hour and some full-day sessions.

Participants will:

- Gain an understanding of the issues impacting the local economy
- Learn how decisions are made and by what agency
- Gain and enhance leadership skills
- Learn to find resolution to challenges in the community
- Create connections with community leaders, elected officials, peers and future leaders

Leadership Elk Grove is open to those interested in taking part in elected leadership and volunteer leadership and those interested in helping keep Elk Grove a healthy place to live, play and do business. The limited class size (20) encourages full participation by all class members. The sessions provide a full range of education and exposure to agencies and organizations that influence Elk Grove's economy.

Tuition is $400 for Chamber members, which includes all speakers, materials, and meals.

Applications for consideration are due to the Chamber office by September 15, 2009 for the 2009-2010 class. More details and an application for consideration are available through the Chamber's website www.elkgroveca.com or by calling the Chamber office at 916-691-3760.
