

Based on input from the Chamber and business owners, the City Council declined to move forward with the proposal to go to an exclusive commercial waste hauler agreement. This means that businesses can continue to choose the commercial waste hauler service that best suit their specific business needs.

The Chamber hosted two meetings of business owners on the proposal, participated in the City's workshops and urged the Council not to move to an exclusive agreement. "The Council made the right decision," stated Janet Toppenberg, Chamber President/CEO, following the meeting on February 28th.
